NDIT WHO HIT MORTON MAN CAUGHT

HAIR PROVES DOWNFALL FOR FRANK BABB OF ATTICA

TACKLED GEORGE INGE

Convict Object Of Extensive
Hunt After Attempting Holdup
At Morton Store

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., July 1. — Betrayed by his thatch of red hair his apparent arrogance in seeking a night's lodging in the county here while officers were looking for him all over western Indiana, Frank Babb, 19, Attica ex-convict, was arrested here Saturday morning on a charge of auto banditry.

After his identification by Sheriff Frank Youngblood, of Fountain county, the young man was taken to Covington where he probably will be held on the banditry charge.

While officers were seeking him for attacking George E. Inge, a storekeeper at Morton, and the subsequent wrecking of a stolen automobile, Babb presented himself at the county jail about 11 o'clock Friday night and asked to be allowed to spend the night in jail. Sheriff Verner L. Bowers, who had been searching for the youth for nearly eight hours in the southern part of the county, had returned only a few minutes before.

The Morton storekeeper had said that the youth who struck him over the head with a flashlight and attempted to rob him had light red hair and a prominent nose and when Mrs. Bowers, wife of the sheriff, took Babb's breakfast to him, she noticed that the man behind the bars answered the description of the fugitive and that he apparently had been injured, as if in an accident.

She immediately informed Sheriff Bowers who got in touch with Putnam county officers.

John Sutherland, sheriff of Putnam county, together with Inge, came to Crawfordsville a short time later and Inge immediately identified Babb as his attacker.

At that time the youth insisted that his name was Frank Jones and that he had no home.

Sheriff Sutherland then started back to Greencastle with the youth.

In the meantime, Deputy Sheriff Wayne Gentry, hearing the description of the prisoner, had a "hunch" that he might be Babb and called Sheriff Youngblood of Fountain county.

Youngblood, upon hearing the description of Babb, identified him and came to Crawfordsville.

Gentry managed to intercept Sheriff Sutherland, his prisoner and Inge and all three returned to Crawfordsville.

After a conference at the jail here, it was decided to turn Babb over to Youngblood, as it was believed Fountain county had the best case against him.

Thattack on Inge took place at his general store in Morton, four miles east of the intersection of state roads 43 and 36, shortly after 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

According to Inge, the would-be bandit entered the store apparently as a customer. As Inge approached him, Babb struck the storekeeper with a flashlight he had in his hand.

As he felt he managed to seize a revolver and fired four times at his assailant who remained unharmed.

Babb is believed to have hurried away to the east and north in his stolen automobile.

About three miles west of Ladoga, Babb failed to negotiate sharp turn and his car crashed into two trees and overturned, landing badly mangled, on its wheels.

Mrs. Ed Powers, who lives near the scene of the accident, ran from her home and asked the youth if he were injured. He answered in the negative and started running through a field toward a woods.

Charles Meredith, of Brown's Valley, state highway worker, happened along shortly afterward and notified Sheriff Bowers who, with Euty Gentry and Officer Charles Jenson of the local police force, made a thorough search of the neighborhood.

Will Cut School Bus Routes Here

NUMBER OF ROUTES TO BE REDUCED FROM NINE TO SEVEN

After thoroughly studying the problem of the transportation of school children in Greencastle Township before new bids are received this July as provided by statute, school officials have agreed to adopt the policy of operating all of its own vehicles and to reduce the number of routes from nine to seven. Under the past plan, four busses have been entirely school owned and five have been under bids covering ownership of chassis and operation by drivers. All bodies have been owned by the school corporation.

In re-organizing the transportation problem, a pupil dot chart of the township has been prepared and the routes planned for as much efficiency and elimination of duplicate road travel as possible. In reducing the routes by two, the Board will replace the smaller capacity bodies now used with larger types. The average mileage per route will not be appreciably increased and it is believed children will be transported with more comfort. Greencastle Township lends itself particularly to low transportation costs as a high percentage of pupils live within a short radius of the city limits, making it possible to have short double hauls.

Rather careful estimates over a period of the next eight years, lead local officials to predict a reduction in total transportation expenditures of $25,000.00 to $28,000.00 from the previous similar period.

Bids will be taken for drivers services only for a period of two years. The Board also decided to reduce the lower age limit to 21 years instead of 25 as has been the previous local ruling.

HOLDING COMPANY BILL BEFORE HOUSE TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 1, (UP) — The administration brought the question of a death sentence "for unessential utility holding companies," to the house floor today by proposing to substitute the senate bill for the house measure.

The bitterly contested question was expected to be brought to a teller vote shortly after noon.

Rep. Edward C. Eicher, D., Iowa, proposed the substitution of provisions of the senate measure which provide for mandatory dissolution of all but essential utility holding companies beyond the first degree within seven years.

The house was tense with excitement as debate proceeded. Galleries were jammed.

The vote was not to be a record one, although President Roosevelt and administration leaders made clear that they regarded the issue as the most important to come before this session of congress.

RAILROAD IS DEFENDANT IN DAMAGE SUIT

$10,000 ASKED IN DEATH OF
WILLIAM C. MCKAMEY
LAST APRIL

NEGLIGENCE IS CHARGED

Victim's View Obstructed By Embankment and Freight Train Complaint Alleges

The Pennsylvania railroad was made defendant in a $10,000 damage suit filed in Putnam circuit court Monday morning by James E. McKamey, administrator of the estate of William C. McKamey, deceased. Matt J. Murphy is the attorney for the plaintiff.

According to the complaint, William C. McKamey on April 12, 1935 was killed when his auto was struck by a westbound Pennsylvania passenger train at the Danbury crossing on Tennessee street. It is alleged that his view at the crossing was obstructed by an eastbound freight and an embankment which is twelve feet higher than the level of the roadway. Negligence of the train crew is charged in that they failed to blow the whistle when the locomotive bell was rung by the train. It is further alleged that the train was traveling at the rate of 70 miles an hour, being two hours behind schedule and that the speed was such that the train could not be stopped until it was one-fourth mile past the crossing.

The complaint states that Mr. McKamey was an active and thrifty business man, capable of earning as high as $50 per week. It also stated that the victim's father, Doctor P. McKamey, is 67 years of age and impaired in health and hearing and that the decedent for several years had aided and supported him and that the son's death has damaged the father to the extent of $10,000.

Raps Tactics Of Federal Agents

GREEN LAKE, Wis., July 1 — Uncle Sam's "G-men" and their tactics in "wiping out" public enemies were assailed vigorously by Circuit Judge Robert Cowie, of La Crosse, Wis., in an address before the Wisconsin Bar Association which concludes its 42nd annual convention today.

Asserting crime was a serious issue Judge Cowie said last night, "To say that a great nation has to resort to an organization, the like of which J. Edgar Hoover is the head, is to confess failure and admit the futility of legal constructiveness within the constitution."

The government, he said, was building up a secret police comparable with those in Europe. Each organization has no place in a Democracy, he added.

"Just why the power of the government in apprehending the late John Dillinger was obliged to resort to the bribery of a 'scarlet woman' to put Dillinger on the spot, is not exactly clear, nor is the ultimate plan complimentary to the state," he declared.

Judge Cowie urged plugging up of loopholes in the law that allow criminals to avoid justice.

Miners Working Under Armistice

AWAIT ACTION BY CONGRESS
ON GUFFEY COAL
MEASURE

WASHINGTON, July 1, (UP) — With threat of an immediate strike of 400,000 soft coal miners lifted, the joint wage conference of miners and operators marked time today while congress rushed action on the Guffey coal bill.

The miners will continue at work under a 30-day "armistice" agreed to at a Saturday night conference between representatives of operators, miners, and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. A previous extension expired at midnight last night.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said in agreeing to the extension that he was doing so in deference to President Roosevelt's wishes. Operators, though not bound by the agreement, were expected to abide by it generally.

Duncan Kennedy, chairman of the operator's committee, said he believed operators would adhere to the agreement. The operators previously had proposed a nine months extension of wage and hour contracts which expired last April 1, and have been thrice extended.

The miners have demanded a 10 per cent wage increase and a reduction of the work week from 35 to 30 hours. Operators refused, contending the present unsettled status of the industry would not permit this.

Negotiations were expected to be resumed after congress acts on the Guffey bill creating a "little NRA" for the coal industry. The bill is supported by the United Mine Workers and some operators. It is on President Roosevelt's "must" list.

SEEK MOTIVE FOR SLAYING OF ATTORNEY

VICTIM WAS NEPHEW OF CHIEF JUSTICE CHARLES EVANS
HUGHES

SUSPECT ADMITS SHOOTING

Claims Self-Defense But Detroit Police Say Case Continues To Remain A Mystery

DETROIT, July 1, (UP) — From hours of intensive questioning of William Switzer, procurer and police character, authorities today sought the "hidden motive" for the murder of Howard Carter Dickinson, prominent New York attorney and nephew of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes. Although Switzer had confessed killing Dickinson, officials said the murder was as much a mystery as ever.

Authorities believed he was attempting to conceal the motivation for the murder and the participation of another person. They were positive he did not kill the lawyer in fear of his own life and that Dickinson did not kill himself. Switzer changed his story repeatedly, alternately insisting upon self defense and suicide through hours of questioning.

So many discrepancies appeared in Switzer's stories and so many known facts were unexplained that obviously the true motive had not been so much as hinted, the detectives said. Why Switzer, a petty member of the Detroit underworld, slew the prominent lawyer, a member of one of America's first legal families they were unprepared to say.

Three women arrested with Switzer Saturday at Fort Wayne, Ind., were believed to have told all they knew, which simply was that Switzer killed Dickinson. They did not witness the slaying, according to their and Switzer's stories, and therefore knew nothing of the motive.

Switzer, already charged with murder, will be questioned all of today in the hope that he will "break" and tell all he knows of the killing. The women, Loretta and Florence Jackson, sisters, and Jean Miller, were held as material witnesses.

The major premise of Switzer's story—that he, Dickinson, and the three women engaged in a two-day drinking bout before Dickinson was killed early Thursday morning—already was disproven. Detectives accounted for Dickinson's time from his arrival in Detroit Tuesday to work on the claim of Mrs. Elizabeth Carmichael Witherspoon against the $40,000 estate of the late William Yawkey, lumberman, until Wednesday night when he was leaving the Book-Cadillac hotel to keep an engagement, presumably with Switzer.

Dickinson liked an occasional cocktail, but was not a heavy drinker, police learned. A family man devoted to his wife and child, a man of culture and distinction, detectives did not believe he would seek pleasure in the company of a procurer and three of his women. But through hours of questioning Switzer insisted Dickinson introduced himself to the sisters Jackson and himself as they dined at the Book-Cadillac hotel Tuesday night, and was with them almost continuously until Thursday morning when he was killed.

Switzer said the five of them were

TWO NEGROES SUSPECTS IN CAR ROBBERY

ALLEGED TO HAVE LOOTED
BOX CAR AT LIMEDALE
SATURDAY

ARRESTED SUNDAY MORNING

Stolen Freight Found In Weeds By Section Hand. Negroes Riding
In Truck.

Two negroes, claiming Indianapolis as their residence, were taken into custody by deputy sheriff William Ashworth and a Pennsylvania railroad detective Sunday morning at Limedale, as suspects in the looting of a freight car Saturday night.

According to Emmett Green, agent at Limedale, westbound freight No. 7 waited at the station for an east-bound train Saturday night at 10 o'clock. The seal on a box car, twelve cars back from the engine was cut and 34 pieces of merchandise were unloaded and rolled down an embankment on the west side of the tracks.

Sunday morning, Sam Taylor who lives at Limedale and is employed as a section hand by the Monon railroad, was looking for raspberries and saw the packages of freight in the weeds. In the meantime, Mr. Green had received a report that a Monon train crew had noticed some merchandise about a mile south of the station. He walked down the tracks without results and had just returned to the station when Taylor informed him of his discovery.

Two Pennsylvania detectives out of Terre Haute arrived in their auto about this time and a section gang was called out to take the merchandise, consisting of curtains, draperies and upholstery, to the station.

While one of the detectives was talking to Mr. Green a light truck drove past the station and went north to the pavement, stopping opposite the embankment where the freight had been found. The detective started to investigate the rather suspicious actions of the truck's two occupants, both colored men. He was joined by deputy sheriff Ashworth who was on his way to Limedale and the negroes were arrested and brought to the local jail.

Monday morning they were taken to the Indiana state farm by the Pennsylvania detectives for fingerprinting and possible criminal identification.

The officers found that Indiana license for the truck had been issued to A. J. Thomas, colored, Indianapolis contractor. The numbers on the license plates are T13-859. The negroes gave their names as Onzell Wallace, 2223 West St. Clair street and Van Nelson. Wallace was driving the truck which both claimed had been "borrowed."

At the farm it was found that Nelson had served time in that institution for vagrancy. Wallace has also served a term in the state reformatory at Pendleton for larceny. Both are being held in jail here pending further investigation.

TWO CONFESS ROBBERIES

BRAZIL, Ind., July 1, (UP) — A systematic series of robberies at two local grocery stores during the last four months was confessed today by William and Bert Early, brothers, proprietors of a small bakery, captured in one of the groceries.

Police said the men admitted obtaining flour, lard, eggs and sugar used in their bakery by burglarizing the groceries. Canned goods stolen from the groceries were found in the bakery, authorities said.

Last rites for Charles Sinclair, well known Cloverdale township farmer who died Saturday, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Church of Christ at Cloverdale, with interment in the Cloverdale cemetery.

FIRST ORDER OF NEW BOARD PROVIDES POLICE SHAKEUP

INDIANAPOLIS, July 1, (UP)—A sweeping reorganization of the state police department was announced today as "general order No. 1" of the new state police board.

The changes were announced by Donald F. Stiver, Goshen, new superintendent of state police, and were made on his recommendations.

The new lieutenants were appointed. Three sergeants, Walter Mentzer, Fort Wayne, in charge of the second district with headquarters at the Lafayette barracks, and Don Franklin, Spencer, former sergeant who has been on leave of absence to work for the excise police force.

Lieut. Ray Fischer, in charge of the northern district barracks at Ligonier and Michigan City, was re-appointed.

Another lieutenant will be appointed later, Stiver said.

Acting Sergeant A. C. Davidson, Paoli, was made a full sergeant at the Anderson barracks and Sgt. Arthur Kellar, Plymouth, was advanced to the detective rank.

Lieut. Chester A. Butler, Indianapolis, and Sgt. Ernest Pearce, Indianapolis, were demoted to patrolmen. Stiver said Butler was not capable of commanding men.

Five men were dismissed. One of them Loyal Hall, Noblesville, was discharged for failure to comply with orders regarding filing of expense accounts, Stiver said.

John Weir, 55, Salem, William Whittmeyer, 53, Tell City, Harry Davis, 40, Winchester, and George C. Ale, 60, North Vernon, were dismissed as "too old" for police work. Davis and Ale had been working as bus and truck inspectors.

Julius Koenig, Vincennes, former department of justice operative, was appointed to the bureau of criminal identification.

Karl Burkhardt, Peru, was transferred from superintendent of the identification bureau to the detective force.

Patrolman Raymond Ball, Columbus, was transferred to the detective unit.

Pointing out that any employee of the department can be dismissed without a hearing within the next year, Stiver said several others are being watched for proposed discharge, promotion or demotion.

MINE BLAST KILLS 25

CALCUTTA, India, July 1 (UP)—Two explosions in the Bagdidi coal mine killed 25 men and injured about 60 seriously, a dispatch from Bhand said today.

But for the heroism of the mine foreman and the manager, who gave their lives to save the men below, the deaths would have been several times more, it was indicated.

The foreman discovered something wrong in the mine. He told the manager and together they descended the pit. They found there had been an explosion in a gallery some distance from the shaft and that fire had started.

The fire made it impossible to seal the gallery in which the first explosion occurred and as the flames approached the main shaft there was a second explosion.

RESIDENTS PLAN MEETINGS OBJECTING TO 3.2 PER CENT BEER

TOPEKA, July 1—The rallying cry for a new prohibition battle rang through Kansas today.

Declaring it's "a battle to the finish this time," the Rev. John R. Golden, Topeka minister and chairman of the Kansas prohibition emergency committee, announced plans had been completed for more than 400 "anti-beer" meetings throughout the state Sunday.

"Three-two beer must go in Kansas" the prohibition leader declared.

Organization of a new campaign against beer followed a survey which showed 66 cities and municipalities in the state have adopted beer-regulating ordinances—giving the beverage a semi-legal standing in face of the state's 54-year-old prohibition amendment.

In the absence of a law defining intoxicants, the brew is being sold throughout the state.

ENDURANCE FLIGHT TO END

TONIGHT; NEW RECORD MADE

MERIDIAN, Miss., July 1, (UP)—The endurance flight of Al and Fred Key, Mississippi birdmen, will come to an end at 6:30 o'clock tonight, they radioed the ground crew this morning.

If all goes well up to that time, the fliers will have broken all endurance flight records. The weakened condition of the endurance ship "Ole Miss" decided them on this course.

At two minutes after noon, they passed the 647½ hour mark of Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien.

"Ole Miss," a high wing monoplane that the young Key brothers tore down and rebuilt a dozen times in preparation for their flight, buzzed on in a clear sky without even an indication of trouble. A flat tire on the landing gear, threatening trouble when the brothers came down, worried them not a bit. They planned to dump any gasoline in their tank when they start down and balance the light plane toward the side with an inflated tire.

Managers of the city softball teams are requested to file their final lists of players with Coach "Gaumy" Neal this evening. Each team is allowed fifteen players, coaches, and a bat boy in addition to the manager. There will be no changes on the various teams for the remainder of the summer season with the filing of the lists today.

of every possible precaution to prevent anything happening to her 2-year old son, who will receive approximately $7,000,000 from his father's estate.

Private detectives maintained a day and night guard around the Reynolds cottage near Breakwater Court, a sequestered and exclusive section of Kennebunkport. Mrs. Reynolds, here for a summer of rehearsals with a Little Theater company, has made it a point to live as inconspicuously as possible. Whether she has received a kidnap threat or has been frightened by other kidnappings could not be learned.

Mrs. Reynolds hopes to return to Broadway, where she earned fame as a torch singer before her marriage to Reynolds, as an actress on the legitimate stage. She will have a role in the comedy, "Accent on Youth," to be given to a summer audience here. She hopes to perfect a technique in various roles during the summer.

opinion that he could "beat the rap" in Fountain county.

The youth was released from the state reformatory at Pendleton only last April after serving two years of a term for grand larceny. He said he was not a parole violator because he had "served his parole at the pen," indicating that he had not been an exemplary prisoner.

The stolen and wrecked automobile was found to be the property of Walter Morris, of Chrisman, Ill., who called for the machine later in the day. He said that he would be satisfied to have Babb prosecuted at Clinton as the heaviest penalty could receive in Illinois would be a year. If convicted of the auto burglary charge, Babb would be subject to a sentence of from 10 to 25 years in the reformatory.

SEEK SLAYING MOTIVE

"Taking fresh air" in a drive through Rouge park early Thursday, he stopped the machine so the woman could get out. While they were gone, Dickinson produced a revolver, said first they had shot craps at Dickinson, enraged because Swift couldn't pay $4 he had lost, intent to kill him. In his second story, said Dickinson fired at him without cause. In each story he said he wrested the pistol from the layer and fired in self defense.

In another story, he said Dickinson produced the pistol and fit two shots, one into his chest, the other into his head. Frightened he left the body besides the Rice park driveway and fled with a woman he said.

Dickinson was barely more than five feet tall. He would have been as helpless as a child in the hands of the comparatively brassy Switzer, police said. Local associates said he did not carry a pistol far as they knew.

None of Swift's stories explained the mysterious reappearance of Dickinson's left case 10 hours after his body was found. A nervous woman check it at the Book-Cadillac where Dickinson had a room. Police did not reveal if any of the three women wrested with Switzer was the one who returned the brief case, or did they say if any check had been made of the heaps of legal papers it contained.

ONE LENDER FINANCES CITY

DUNKIRK, N. Y., (UP)—Dunkirk's one man city financier has gone to aid of his community again to help it through the depression.

He is David S. Wright, co-partner of the Lake Shore Seed company, who took the city's entire emergency relief bond issue of $40,000. Single-handed, Wright has saved the financial credit of this city again and again when its finances were low. Once, when it seemed that city employees would have to do without their salaries over Christmas, Wright lent $23,000 to the municipality to aid it over the crisis.

During the last four years, he has advanced money on numerous occasions in 10, 20, and 30 thousand dollar lots when the city had difficulty meeting its payroll.

Once, Wright wrote his personal check for $250,000 to finance construction of a new school. Again, he and his brother chopped in $2,200 each and purchased a 30-acre tract to be used as a park.

"And why not?" Wright comments. "This city is perfectly sound and it's a good investment. Dunkirk has never defaulted on a bond and I don't believe it ever will. I'd rather have a Dunkirk city bond than any other type of investment you can name. And besides, I think we ought to support the city wherever we can in these troubled times."

AT THE THEATERS

Chateau

The last of the world-famous lancer regiments, once an essential unit of every national army, are the Bengal Lancers, pictured in "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," which shows for the last time tonight at the Chateau theater. Animals which appear in the picture are some two thousand horses, fifty pack mules, thirty-four camels, a leopard and two hunting falcons. Featured players include Gary Cooper, Franchot Tone, Richard Cromwell and Sir Guy Standing. It is a stirring outdoor spectacle based on the exploits of India's famous fighting regiment.

Vocastle

Starred with George Raft in his second film, Ben Bernie together with his lads appears in "Stolen Harmony," at the Vocastle theater tonight, in his best clowning and musical mood. The picture, featuring a new score by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, blends music with comedy and closes with a dramatic note. Raft has the role of an ex-convict who turns straight to get the chance to make a transcontinental tour with Bernie and his lads. He falls in love with Grace Bradley, the dancer with the troupe. When the funds of the organization are stolen suspicion is cast upon Raft, who clears himself in a dramatic climax.

DANVILLE MAY LET A

NEW FEDERAL BUILDING

Mrs. Virginia Jencks, representative in Congress from this district writes as follows:

In accordance with the provisions of the Second Deficiency Appropriation Bill for 1935, I have recommended that a new Federal building be erected by the Federal Government for the use of post office and other federal agencies in Danville, Hendricks County, Indiana.

Danville is the county seat of Hendricks County, one of the important counties in my District, and the citizens of that community have joined me in asking that an appropriation of approximately $55,000 be made for this purpose.

The shortest trans-continental highway between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans traverses one of the main streets of Danville, and forms the north side of the public square of that city.

As the representative of the Sixth District of Indiana, I have requested that insofar as it is possible labor and materials used in the construction of this building shall be drawn from local sources of supply.

I have the assurances of the authorities here in Washington that my recommendations will receive favorable consideration.

"Hello. Nice of you to wait up for me, Fanny." Marcia was standing in the door. She tossed Sherry his keys. "Sorry—your car's outside."

"Thanks." With sudden decision that did not escape Fanny's notice, he lowered himself into a chair. "I was worried about the car."

Fanny had recovered her power of speech. "What happened?"

"Nothing." Marcia eyed the glowing end of her cigarette interestedly. "Surprisingly little happened considering his affectionate nature. Are all fighters affectionate?"

"I don't as a rule," Sherry said coldly. Marcia looked past him dreamily. "What a lot you miss. Well I asked him if he were a real caveman. He got the idea right away and started to drag me to his cave. I stalled him by asking him to get out of the car, and show me how he back-peddled and—"

Sherry regarded Marcia thoughtfully for a moment. "All in aren't you?"

Mrs. Waley Confers With Counsel

Plans for defense of Mrs. Margaret Waley when she goes on trial at Tacoma, Wash., July 5, for the kidnaping of George Weyerhaeuser, were outlined when the defendant conferred with her attorneys, John F. Dore, left, and Stephen J. O'Brien, right. They were appointed defense counsel by the court after Mrs. Waley had been denied the right to plead guilty. Her husband was sentenced to 45 years for his part in the kidnaping.

SUPER HIGHWAY

FOR U. S. URGED

WOOSTER, Ohio, (UP)—Construction of a $12,000,000,000 highway across the United States has been proposed to President Roosevelt by T. E. Steiner, manufacturer, to aid recovery.

Steiner's plan would call for a road 4,000 miles long, 450 feet wide, including eight traffic lanes and two parking lanes. It would be built across the northern part of the nation.

The highway would begin at Plymouth Rock on the Atlantic and terminate near San Francisco.

Steiner based his suggestion on the need for work. "By building such a road," he said, "we'd put thousands of people to work, speed up transcontinental traffic, reduce traffic fatalities and inspire a general feeling of business confidence because of the tremendous amount of money that would have to be spent."

Steiner proposes the government issue $12,000,000,000 in specific super highway bonds, callable at any time after a few years, at two per cent interest.

The government would help finance the work by leasing concessions for amusements, swimming pools and other necessities at 10 or 20-mile intervals along the National road.

Steiner's plan calls for: 45 feet for four lanes of automobile traffic; 55 feet for four lanes of bus and truck traffic; 20 feet in center between the two roads, graded; 30 feet outside of each 10 feet on side of truck and automobile roads for ditches and roadbed protection; 125 feet outside of the 30 feet for ditches and landscaping; a fence in the center between truck and automobile roads.

The present plan would provide for 12 places of entry to the road: at Boston, between New York and Albany, between Buffalo and Pittsburgh, between Cleveland and Columbus, between Toledo and Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City and the Pacific Coast.

No traffic would be permitted at point of entry. Short drives to recreation spots on the road would be permissible.

UNUSUAL TASTES EXPLAINED AS MENTAL ATTITUDE, HABIT

HONG KONG, (UP)—Shark fins, black eggs and bird nest soup may not sound appetizing to Americans, but Chinese regard with equal disdain lemon pie, cheese soufflé or candied sweet potatoes.

It's all a mental attitude, says one of Hong Kong's celebrated chefs, Wong Ching, who observes:

"If you grow up believing that certain things are terrible, and are told that 'nobody but a Chinaman would eat it,' just remember that Chinese children are taught that some of your food is equally dreadful and that nobody but a barbarian would touch it."

Hong Kong, in the opinion of many is rapidly becoming the gastronomic center of the world. For generations the art of Chinese cooking has been in a class by itself.

It is well known to anyone who has eaten a full 32-course Chinese dinner, that at the end of it he does not feel stuffed or uncomfortable. There is such an incredible variety and each ingredient so carefully thought out, that the menu is a mystery of perfect balance. The constant drinking throughout the meal of chrysanthemum tea and other herb concoctions, is also conducive to the best digestion.

The preparation and blending of foods is to the Chinese chef what mixing prescriptions is to the chemist.

Ching explained briefly the making of bird nest soup from swallows' nests imported from north China.

"The birds use their own saliva to cement the nest, and this is the part selected for the soup," he says. Shark fins are very expensive. They vary in price from a few dollars a catty (about a pound and a third) to $60 for a whole fin. The finest shark fin soup requires at least three days preparation to bring out the full delicacy of flavor.

Rice birds are so small that if they over-exercise in trying to escape, they shrink to much to be any good for eating when caught. It is essential, Ching explained, to snatch them as they fly over the rice fields. In this way they are snared in nets by the hundred. They feed only on un-matured rice, which keeps their bones so tender they can be eaten like sardines. This is considered a tasty "after dish."

It is a common belief that the famous Chinese "black eggs" take on that color because they are decomposed and many foreigners refuse to eat them. This is not true. The eggs are wrapped in mud made of quicklime and clay, or in ashes obtained by burning parsley leaves, and clay. These egg packages are stored in dark earthen pots for from one to three months and in this way are cooked and preserved by one operation.

Roast duck-skin, another delicacy, is as brown and crisp as a fresh potato chip—and there is never a pin-feather left in the epidermis.

Questioned as to the prevalence of chopstick wielders among foreigners, Ching is convinced that nine out of ten use them.

"They think it is amusing," he says, "and finding it a most simple accomplishment, take real delight in manipulating difficult objects with them."

HUNTS BANDIT LOOT

PAWNEE, Okla. (UP)—Thousands of dollars in old gold and silver coins—part of the loot of the notorious James brothers' Missouri outlaw gang—are buried in a cave east of Newkirk, according to John Hill, who was a neighbor of the James desperadoes.

The treasure was hidden beneath a huge flat rock at the mouth of Lookout cave, Hill said, when posses pressed to closely on the gang after one of its spectacular raids.

The money is still there, Hill believes, but erosion has so altered the cave in the years since then that there is no way of determining how far under the surface, or how far from the present mouth of the cave the treasure might be.

Bullets from the officers' guns cut down the gang before they could return to recover the loot, Hill said. Six were killed at Northfield, Minn., where they tried to rob a bank; the Ford brothers killed Jesse James; other members of the gang were slain or arrested; and Frank James sur-

Lincoln Pioneer Village To Be Dedicated July 4

Lincoln Pioneer Village at Rockport, erected to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, who lived in Spencer county, Indiana, from 1816 to 1830. The village, covering a four-acre tract in which replicas of ten buildings that played an important part in the formative period of Lincoln's life have been constructed, was built by FERA workers under the supervision of the Spencer County Historical Society. The village is to be dedicated on July 4, in connection with an all-day celebration to be open to the public. Another international alliance, linking an American heiress and British nobility, went on the rocks when Lady Carnarvon, the former Catherine Wendell of New York, sued for divorce in London courts from her titled husband.

July 4, 1935, Marks Advance Toward New Freedom

July 4, 1935, celebrated as the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, although the signers attached their signatures on other dates, is doubly significant this year. A new bill of rights is apparently in the making, guaranteeing the citizens of United States advantages and privileges never possessed by the majority of people before. George Washington was leader of his country when United States was establishing its political independence. Franklin D. Roosevelt is president in this present era when the aims of the government are to establish a new social and economic order of greater security and freedom for the majority.
